Drug storage and disposal

Tips on Safe Storage and Disposal of Your Prescription Medicines

National Council on Patient Information and Education

Where do you keep your medicines? Are they in different places—with some in the medicine cabinet, some in the kitchen, and some in the bedroom or elsewhere? As a parent, grandparent, or family member, it's important that you organize and keep track of your medicines.

After all, you will want to know where a particular medicine is when you or someone else needs to find it. And you will want to keep your medicines secure so that a child, or a teenager, or even a stranger, does not get into them. That way, you can help prevent an accidental injury, as well as do your part to stop the possible abuse of prescription medicines.

The first step in getting organized is to take a look at all the medicines you have. You should try to do this type of inventory every six months, or at least once a year.

Start by checking the expiration date on the bottle—you don't want to take any chances with a medicine that no longer works the way it's supposed to. Also, look for medicines that are discolored, dried out, crumbling, or show other signs that they are past their prime. Check the expiration date for eye drops and eardrops, too. They may no longer be effective and, worse, could be a breeding ground for bacteria or fungus.

In addition, look for leftover prescription medicines from a previous illness or condition. You will want to discard these since you should never try to treat yourself (or anyone else) with a prescription medicine. Your symptoms might seem similar to what you had before, but the cause could be different or the medicine may not be the right one this time around.

Proper Disposal of Prescription Medicines

Federal Guidelines encourage consumers to:

- Take unused, unneeded, or expired prescription drugs out of their original containers and throw them in the trash.
- Mixing prescription drugs with an undesirable substance, such as used coffee grounds or kitty litter, and putting them in impermeable, non-descript containers, such as empty cans or sealable bags, will further ensure the drugs are not diverted.
- Flush prescription medications down the toilet only if the label or accompanying patient information specifically instructs doing so.
- Take advantage of community pharmaceutical take-back programs or community solid waste programs. Where these programs exist, they are a good way to dispose of unused pharmaceuticals.

Find a cool, dry area

Now that you've identified the medicines you want to keep, the next step is to find a safe place to keep them.

You'll want to store your medicine in an area that is convenient, but is also cool and dry – since heat and humidity can damage medicines. That's why a bathroom is not a good place to keep your medicines unless you are able to keep the room well ventilated. (However, the bathroom medicine chest is an ideal place to keep items such as bandages, tweezers, gauze, cotton balls, scissors, and other products that aren't affected by heat or humidity.)

Lock up your medicines

If there are children around, you might want to find an area where you can lock up your medicines. A cabinet or a drawer with a lock on it would work.

It's also an excellent idea to lock up any controlled substances that have been prescribed for you. These include medicines such as hydromorphone (Dilaudid®), oxycodone (OxyContin® and Percocet®), hydrocodone (Vicodin®), and alprazolam (Xanax®).*

The theft and abuse of prescription medicines is a serious problem. You play a big role in keeping these powerful medicines out of the hands of those who shouldn't have them. Since it is dangerous, as well as illegal, for anyone but you to use a controlled substance prescribed for you, a locked storage area can help keep a stranger or someone else from gaining access to them.

Be smart...and safe

Here are some other suggestions that can help you be smarter about storing and using your medicines.

- Keep your medicines separate from those of your spouse or other family members (for instance, on a different shelf or at least on a separate side of a shelf). This will make it less likely that you take the wrong ones by mistake.
- You may find it helpful to have a countertop or tabletop near where you keep your medicine so you can open the bottle with it resting on the flat surface. In case you drop your pill, it will land on the tabletop and not be lost down the drain or on the floor. (But be sure not to leave your medicine bottles out on the counter afterwards.)
- Good lighting near where you store your medicines will help you make sure you are taking the right medicine. Never take medicines in the dark.
- Keep the medicine in the bottle it came in. The amber color protects the medicine from light. You will also have the information right there about what the medicine is and how often to take it. The label will also have the phone number of the pharmacy so you can call when it is time for a refill.

- Never mix different medicines in the same bottle. You might end up taking the wrong one by mistake. It is also possible that some of one medicine could rub off on another and affect how well it works.
- Keep the lids on your pill bottles tightly closed. A cap can't be childproof if it's not fastened correctly.
- If there is cotton in the pill bottle when you first open it, remove the cotton and throw it away. The cotton can absorb moisture and affect the medicine that is inside.

Emergency Preparedness

Protect Your Health: Important Disaster Preparedness Tips

Overview

Before a state of emergency, it's crucial to create a disaster preparedness plan for your healthcare needs. It may be impossible to predict outcomes during a natural disaster, but the following tips can prevent many life-threatening situations before they occur.

Preparing for a Natural Disaster

- Pack all essential medications in a waterproof bag. A freezer safe, re-sealable bag is great in a pinch.
- If possible, fill prescriptions ahead of time. In a state of emergency, prescriptions can be filled up to 30 days without prior doctor approval.
- Make a prescription medicine plan. Use Rx on the Run to print a personalized wallet card that includes your prescriptions with the latest dosage and necessary instructions for proper use.
- Purchase non-perishable food, water, and nutrient-rich items. Apples, bananas and oranges are a great snack that don't require refrigeration and will last up to a week.
- Fully charge your electronic devices and pack spare batteries, chargers, and other essential items. To conserve battery, limit the use of unnecessary apps and switch your phone to low-power mode when fully charged.
- Be aware of your closest healthcare resources, including pharmacies, hospitals, and urgent care clinics. Use Google maps to drop a pin on nearby healthcare locations.
- Have a contingency plan for managing chronic conditions. For patients with:
 - DIABETES: Ensure you have insulin and refrain from eating carbohydrates and other sugars.
 - KIDNEY DISEASE: Make sure you have access to dialysis treatment.
 - CARDIOVASCULAR/PULMONARY DISEASES: Keep a supply of oxygen with you at all times.
 - DISABILITY: Develop contingency transportation plans or identify a trusted caretaker if necessary.
 - ELDERLY: Post emergency numbers near every house and cellular phone.
- Make sure to have an evacuation plan in case you need to leave your home. To find a shelter near you, text FEMA the word "shelter" along with your zip code to 4-3-3-6-2.
- Use Rx Open (rxopen.org) to find open pharmacies near you.

Protect Your Health: Stay Safe and Healthy During Natural Disasters

During an emergency, unforeseen circumstances and events can put your health at risk. While it may be impossible to prevent all health complications, it's critical to prioritize your health and minimize adverse effects. Remember that natural disasters can potentially disrupt operations for pharmacies, providers, and hospitals, so it's crucial to prepare in advance to take care of your health.

Staying Healthy During a Natural Disaster

- Take necessary medications as prescribed. To help maintain regularly scheduled use of medicines, organize your prescriptions for the week and schedule a reminder on your phone to take them as prescribed.
- Make sure your medications remain stable. It's important to make sure your medicines do not come into contact with water or become exposed to extreme temperatures. Some medicines must remain within a certain temperature range.
- Use Rx Open to locate nearest open pharmacy if you run out of medicines or need a refill. If you have a chronic disease, disability, or are a senior and need emergency assistance, refer to the emergency resources below:
 - Healthcare Ready: 1-866-247-2694
 - FEMA: 1-800-621-3362
 - American Diabetes Association: 1-800-342-2283
 - American Heart Association: 1-800-242-8721
 - American Association of People with Disabilities: 1-800-840-8844
 - American Stroke Association: 1-888-478-7653
 - American Red Cross: 1-800-733-2767
- Drink plenty of bottled water and avoid skipping meals. Eat nutrient-rich, non-refrigerated foods such as fruits and vegetables.
- Beware of floodwater contaminants:
 - Do not drink floodwater; drink bottled water instead. If you don't have bottled water, boil (for at least 1 minute) or disinfect water to make it safe.
 - Do not cook, clean or brush teeth with floodwater.
 - Cover open wounds and limit exposure to floodwater at all times.
- Do not eat foods that have expired, perished or come in contact with flood water. Perishable foods in the refrigerator will be unsafe to eat after 4 hours without power. Use dry or block ice to keep your refrigerator cold for longer or use an extra cooler.
- Recognize symptoms of food or waterborne illness. If you experience vomiting, diarrhea, and abdominal pain, contact a healthcare provider immediately.

Protect Your Health: Beware of Post-Disaster Health Risks

Even after the immediate threats of a disaster have passed, the remaining destruction and wreckage pose significant health risks. Mold, spoiled food, and damaged structures and buildings are particularly dangerous, and the already-strained healthcare infrastructure may be slower to respond to accidents or illnesses. It's critical to stay vigilant, careful, and not take the relative calm for granted.

Returning Home After a Disaster

- Use caution when cleaning debris or fixing broken items. Always wear gloves, masks, and protective eyewear, and beware of glass, nails, and other sharp objects. If you are cut or scraped, clean and disinfect the wound thoroughly and keep it covered.
- Don't overexert yourself. Remember to take frequent breaks while cleaning and repairing your home and other items.
- Dispose of foods that may have spoiled or been exposed to floodwater. Without power, perishable foods only last for 4 hours in the refrigerator and 24-48 hours in the freezer.
- Dispose of medicines and other medical supplies that may have been exposed to floodwaters. It's important that medicines and medical supplies stay within a certain temperature range and remain completely dry. Dispose of any items you think may have been damaged in any way.
- Disinfect cooking and eating surfaces. Use boiling water or a solution of one-tablespoon bleach to one-gallon clean water to clean pots, pans, countertops, dishes and silverware.
- Check for mold inside your home, especially if you have asthma or another respiratory condition. Mold can cause irritation and inflammation of existing respiratory conditions.
- Check for gas leaks, and do not run gas-powered generators, grills or heaters indoors. Gas fumes contain carbon monoxide, which may build up and be lethal.
- Beware of fire ants, mosquitos and other insects. Poisonous and disease-carrying insects are more common during flooding.
- Contact family members and friends. Stay in contact and let them know you are safe.

Adherence Tips

Why People Miss Their Doses

Reasons

Andrew, living with HIV since 1995

It's normal to run into challenges with taking your HIV medicine. But, even missing one dose a month can make your medicine less effective. The good news is that there are ways to help you take every dose, every day. What's your challenge?

I Forget.

Pick something you do at the same time every day, like watching your favorite TV show or brushing your teeth, and take your medicine at that time every day. Set an alarm on your watch or phone. Download a smartphone app to set up reminders and track doses.

I Feel Sick From the Side Effects.

It's tempting to skip a dose when your medicine makes you feel bad. But, don't stop taking your medicine. Call your medical provider if you develop any side effects. Most side effects go away within a few weeks. Your provider can recommend ways to manage your side effects.

My Treatment Plan is Too Complicated.

Fill a pill organizer at the start of the week with each dose of your medicine. Keep it where you can see it. Ask your medical provider to help you understand what medicine to take, when to take them, and how (for example, with or without food).

I Feel Overwhelmed Doing This Alone.

It's okay to ask for help. Your healthcare team is there to support you. Talk with them about the challenges you face so they can work with you to find solutions. Join a support group or reach out to family or friends you trust. Ask for help with tasks, like calling you for regular check-ins, going to the pharmacy to pick up your medicine, or just listening.

I Can't Afford to Pay for My Medicine.

There are public and private drug assistance programs that can help pay for your HIV medicine. Ask your HIV case manager or counselor to explain these programs and help you apply for assistance.

Talk to your provider about the importance of taking your HIV medication every day.

The Journey to Undetectable

cdc.gov/StopHIVTogether // #JourneyToUndetectable // #TalkUndetectable

THE JOURNEY TO UNDETECTABLE

HIV medicine can reduce the amount of HIV in your blood (called viral load) to a level so low that a test can't detect it. This is known as an "undetectable viral load" or "undetectable."

Getting and keeping an undetectable viral load is the best thing people with HIV can do to stay healthy. If you get an undetectable viral load and keep it, you have effectively no risk of transmitting HIV to an HIV-negative partner through sex.

Once you start taking HIV medicine, you are on your journey to being undetectable.

By taking medicine as prescribed, most people can get an undetectable viral load within 6 months.

The longer you are undetectable, the more likely you will stay undetectable.

Not everyone taking HIV medicine is undetectable.

PubNo. 300970 March 2021

Best ways to keep an undetectable viral load and stay healthy:

The only way to know if you are undetectable is by visiting your provider regularly.

Take your medicine as prescribed.

Visit your provider regularly.

To help you stay on your journey, it's important that you find a provider who makes you feel comfortable and supported. This extends to the other health care professionals involved in your treatment.

Getting and keeping an undetectable viral load prevents HIV transmission during sex, but there are reasons why you and your partner may consider adding other prevention options like condoms and pre-exposure prophylaxis or PrEP.

YOU CAN DO THIS!

Wherever you are on the journey to undetectable, staying in treatment will improve your health no matter what challenges you may face along the way. Reach out to family and friends who support you on your journey.

Difficulty keeping an undetectable viral load.

Missed doses of medicine since last viral load test.

Protection from other sexually transmitted diseases, like syphilis and gonorrhea.

You or your partner want added peace of mind.

GET IN CARE

Once you receive a diagnosis of HIV, it's important to get connected to care.

- Find health care providers who make you feel comfortable and supported.
- They will help you stay informed about your HIV care and connect you to other services.

GET ON TREATMENT

Getting on HIV treatment is the best thing you can do for your overall health and the first step toward getting an undetectable viral load.

- HIV care and treatment are most effective when you actively take part.
- That means taking your medications as prescribed, going to your medical appointments, and communicating honestly with your health care provider.

STAY IN CARE

Once you are on a treatment plan, work with your health care provider toward getting and keeping an undetectable viral load.

- This means the amount of HIV in your blood (viral load) is so low that a test can't detect it.
- Having an undetectable viral load is the best thing you can do to stay healthy.

STAY UNDETECTABLE

People with HIV who take HIV medicine as prescribed and get and keep an undetectable viral load have effectively no risk of transmitting HIV to their HIV-negative partners through sex.

- Most people can get an undetectable viral load within 6 months of starting HIV treatment.
- Many will become undetectable very quickly, but it could take more time for some.
- The only way to know if you are undetectable is by visiting your provider and getting tested regularly.

YOUR PERSONAL HEALTH INFORMATION & ELECTRONIC HEALTH RECORD

Each time you visit a hospital, medical clinic, physician, dentist, mental health therapist, pharmacy, substance use disorder counselor, or other provider, a record of your visit is made. Typically, this record contains your symptoms, examinations and test results, diagnoses, and details on current or future care or treatment. This information, often referred to as your healthcare or medical record, serves as:

- Basis for planning your care and treatment
- Means of communication among the many health professionals who contribute to your care
- Legal document describing the care you received
- Means by which your third party payer can verify that services billed were actually provided
- Tool in educating health professionals
- Source of information for public health officials charged with improving the health of the nation
- Source of data for facility planning and marketing
- Tool with which we can assess and continually work to improve care and health outcomes.

Understanding what is in your record and how your health information is used helps you to:

- Ensure accuracy
- Better understand who, what and why others may access your health information
- Make more informed decisions when authorizing disclosure to others

ALL ELECTRONIC HEALTH RECORDS

Our organization is part of an organized health care arrangement, the Oregon Community Health Information Network (OCHIN) for electronic health record and other purposes. A current list of OCHIN participants is available at <https://ochin.org/member-map>. As a business associate of our organization, OCHIN supplies information technology and related services to us and other OCHIN participants utilizing Epic and other software. OCHIN also engages in quality assessment and improvement activities on behalf of its participants. For example, OCHIN coordinates clinical review activities on behalf of participating organizations to establish best practice standards and assess clinical benefits that may be derived from the use of electronic health record systems. OCHIN also helps participants work collaboratively to improve the management of internal and external patient referrals. Your personal health information may be shared with other OCHIN participants or a health information exchange only when necessary for medical treatment or for the health care operations purposes of the organized health care arrangement. Health care operations may also include geocoding your residence location to improve the clinical benefits you receive.

HEALTH INFORMATION EXCHANGES

Our organization also participates in various Health Information Exchanges (HIEs) or similar arrangements for treatment, operations and payment purposes. For example, we participate in the Wisconsin Statewide Health Information Network (WISHIN) for Wisconsin patients. In compliance with federal and state laws, we may make your Protected Health Information (PHI) available electronically through HIEs and similar arrangements to select health care providers that may request your information for purposes of treatment; and to public health entities as permitted by law. Our organization may access your PHI from other HIE participants for treatment and healthcare operations purposes. Our participation may be able to assist in avoiding medical errors during a health emergency. For example, an emergency room physician with access to an HIE may access PHI from our organization for the purposes of providing emergency care.

Our organization also participates in immunization registries to enable your health care providers to locate needed information concerning your immunizations. For example, if you receive a vaccination for Hepatitis A at one of our clinics that information may be accessible to external health providers who also provide care for you.

HOW WE MAY USE AND DISCLOSE YOUR PERSONAL HEALTH INFORMATION

The following categories describe some of the different ways that we may use and disclose healthcare information without obtaining written authorization.

For Treatment. Our organization may use health information about you to provide, coordinate and manage your treatment or services internally and externally. We may disclose healthcare information about you to other doctors, pharmacists, nurses, behavioral health providers, lab technicians, case managers, patient services representatives, legal staff, medical, dental, nursing, pharmacy students, or others as needed who are involved in your care and services. For example, a laboratory or medical specialist may need to know information about you to run tests or to provide treatment, or a patient services representative or other staff may need to access your record to set-up and coordinate your appointments.

We may also provide subsequent healthcare providers with copies of various reports that may assist them in treating you. For example, your healthcare information may be provided to a physician to whom you have been referred so that the physician has important information regarding your previous treatment, diagnoses, or medications.

For payment. We may use and disclose healthcare information about your treatment and services to bill and collect payment from you, your insurance company, or a third-party payer such as Medicaid or Medicare. For example, we may need to give your insurance company information before it approves or pays for the health care services we recommend for you. The insurance company may use that information to make a determination of eligibility or when undertaking review activities.

For example, obtaining approval for a medical procedure may require that your health information be disclosed to the health plan to obtain approval for the hospital admission.

For Health Care Operations. We may use or disclose, as needed, your health information in order to support our business activities. These activities may include, but are not limited to, quality assessment and improvement, financial audits, employee performance reviews, scheduling, student training, licensing and accreditation, marketing, legal advice, accounting support, healthcare records storage, transcription, complaint resolution, and other agency operations. For example, we may provide your contact information to a third-party patient evaluation organization to conduct a survey to assist us in care improvement.

Research. Under certain circumstances, we may use and disclose health information about you for research purposes. For example, a research project may involve comparing the health and recovery of all individuals who receive one medication to those who receive another. All research projects, however, are subject to a special approval process to ensure adherence to privacy rules and those who receive this information are obligated to maintain its confidentiality under federal and state laws.

Lastly, if certain criteria are met, we may disclose your health information to researchers after your death when it is necessary for research purposes.

USES AND DISCLOSURES MADE WITH YOUR CONSENT OR OPPORTUNITY TO OBJECT

Individuals Involved in Your Care or Payment for Your Care. If you do not object and the situation is not an emergency, and disclosure is not otherwise prohibited by law, privacy laws permit us to use professional judgment to disclose information to family members, relatives, close friends, or others involved in your care or helping you pay your medical bills.

Communications. We will communicate to you via all means including mailings, through electronic communications such as telephone, text, voicemail or email, or any other means regarding, but not limited to: treatment options, appointment reminders, prescriptions and medicines, information on health-related benefits or services, disease-management programs, policy changes or announcements, wellness programs; to assess your satisfaction; to remind you of appointments; as part of fund raising efforts; for population-based activities relating to training programs or reviewing competence of health care professionals; or other community based initiatives or activities in which we are participating.

If you are not interested in receiving certain communications or materials, please contact your local Health Services Administrator. Vivent Health will review all reasonable requests. However, for billing we must have an address to send bills to you. If you would prefer your bills to be mailed to an alternative address please contact your local Health Services Administrator.

USES AND DISCLOSURES MADE WITHOUT YOUR AUTHORIZATION OR OPPORTUNITY TO OBJECT

The following categories describe the ways our organization may use and disclose your health information without your authorization and without providing you an opportunity to object:

If you do authorize our organization to use or disclose your health information for another purpose, you may revoke your authorization in writing at any time. Patient Grievance Policy and Procedure

Updated November 2018

PURPOSE

The purpose of the Vivent Health Patient Grievance Procedure is to work to resolve grievances related to Vivent Health service delivery. Vivent Health will respond to a grievance in a timely and effective manner to assure that conflicts are resolved and consumer service needs are met.

POLICY

Consumers have the right to file a grievance related to any Vivent Health program or service. The grievance procedure will assist those who have complaints related to accessing or receiving any Vivent Health services.

In filing a grievance, patients/clients are assured that:

- there will be no repercussions from Vivent Health staff, volunteers, or other service users;
- services will continue to be provided to them without interruption or discrimination;
- the grievance procedure is confidential;
- there is no cost to consumers to file a grievance.

Vivent Health will assist the patient/client through the steps of the grievance procedure. A person filing a grievance may be represented by a parent or a legal guardian.

Grievances should be filed within 90 days of the incident or from the time the patient/client learned of the incident. The time limit can be extended for good cause including incarceration, poor health, hospitalization, or other items.

All grievances and steps to resolve them will be documented in the Vivent Health Grievance Log maintained by the state VP of Operations (Health and Social Services) or Director of Pharmacy Services (Pharmacy). Any Vivent Health staff member receiving a completed, signed grievance - either one filled out by the patient/client or an oral grievance written down by a staff person and then signed by the complainant - will forward this information to the VP of Operations or Director of Pharmacy Services within 24 hours.

The Vivent Health grievance procedure is intended to address issues of merit in a confidential manner. Vivent Health reserves the right to reject frivolous or unmeritorious grievances and to reject grievances that are not held in confidence by the consumer, parent, or legal guardian. The decision to reject grievances due to lack of merit or frivolity will be made by the Program Director. All rejected grievances will be filed, with an explanation for the rejection, in the Grievance Log.

PROCEDURE

Patients/Clients can file their complaint with Vivent Health staff in writing or verbally. If a grievance is filed verbally, Vivent Health staff will put the basis and major points of the complaint in writing and the complainant will then sign the grievance prior to Vivent Health proceeding with it.

Step 1: The patient/client will complete the Vivent Health Grievance Report Form and present it for discussion to the primary service delivery staff person. Through discussion, resolution of issues will be pursued. If the grievance cannot be resolved through discussion, or if the grievance directly involves the service delivery staff person, proceed to step 2.

Step 2: The patient/client will complete and present the Vivent Health Grievance Report Form to the appropriate supervisory staff. The appropriate supervisor will contact the complainant within 5 working days of receipt of the grievance to investigate and discuss the issue of the grievance and attempt resolution. The appropriate supervisor will then respond in writing to the complainant, within 5 working days of the discussion with the complainant, with a strategy to resolve the grievance.

Step 3: The patient/client will complete and present the Vivent Health Grievance Report Form to the appropriate Program Director. The Program Director will contact the complainant within 5 working days of receipt of the grievance to investigate and discuss the issue of the grievance and attempt resolution. The Program Director will then respond in writing to the complainant, within 5 working days of the discussion with the complainant, with a strategy to resolve the grievance.

Step 4: If the patient/client is dissatisfied with the response from the Program Director, or if the complaint specifically involves the Program Director, the complainant will direct the Vivent Health Grievance Report Form to the Chief Operating Officer or Chief Pharmacy Officer. The Chief Operating Officer or Chief Pharmacy Officer will investigate and address the issue and contact the complainant within 10 working days of receiving the grievance. If a mutual satisfactory resolution is not achieved within this grievance process, Vivent Health will consult with the State AIDS/HIV Program for final disposition of the grievance.
