CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT on Voter Eligibility Requirements

What does this measure do?

- The proposed amendment changes the language in the Kansas Constitution from promoting everyone who meets certain criteria to vote to only those who meet that criteria may vote.
- The amendment does NOT change who is currently eligible to vote. The Kansas Constitution already limits voting to U.S. citizens who are 18 or older who are residents of the state.

Vivent Health Recommends Voting NO on the Constitutional Amendment

- The changes proposed are purely symbolic, but they could lay the groundwork for attacks on voting rights. Politicians could point to the new exclusionary language to support passing "show your papers" laws that would make it harder to vote for married women, college students and older Kansans, rural Kansans, Kansans of color, LGBTQ+ Kansans and thousands of other eligible voters.
- The amendment is unnecessary. There is no evidence of voting by non-citizens in Kansas elections.
- The amendment is backed by national dark money groups aligned with white supremacy movements.
